Annexation has been a word heard around Carmel a good deal in the past year among groups of merchants and holders of city offices.

More and more it becomes apparent that Carmel citizens, some time in the not too distant future, are going to be embroiled in another great emotional hullaballoo unless they are prepared to consider the matter of annexation objectively, and to act in accordance.

In the past 20 years when property owners in some areas contiguous to the city have requested Carmel to annex the district in which they lived, Carmel citizens have vociferously resisted such a move. So have past city councils.

Residents in other areas outside the city, have raised a great hue and cry against annexation when it has been proposed although city councilmen and Carmel taxpayers smiled benignly.

In consequence, Carmel proper has remained an area of less than a square mile with 4,500 inhabitants.

Fortunately, income from the business district in the form of sales tax revenue and business licenses has kept property taxes lower than other Peninsula cities.

But a large proportion of the businessmen live outside the city limits. They are irked that they can take no part in city government but contribute much to the city's coffers.

At present, the Carmel Business Association is studying annexation. So is the Carmel Citizens Committee, a group dedicated to keeping Carmel a residential community.

So far no findings have been presented but annexation is a much-heard word.

The Pine Cone, with an ear to the wind, has decided to present a series of articles presenting the thinking, both pro and con, of citizens, and groups, considering annexation.

A great deal of study is needed before any definite conclusions can be reached. In the meantime there may be verbal

Feathers . . . From the Shaft

By Harry the Fletcher
No. 61

I sometimes think what fun to be some other person than just me; a yachtsman or a golfing pro, or something else more apropos. A scribe on some Parnassian height with his fair muse to spend the night. Or Paris, that ecstatic boy, who raised all hell with Helen's Troy.

I wouldn't want to be a girl, subjected to some chesty churl. I fancy more the role of knight, to free the maiden from her plight. Or, better still, the ruling king who frowns on such philandering, but still provides that they be brought to decorate his curious court.

But, all these chaps are long since dead, which isn't my desire. I said it might be fun to be—right now—some other person; but somehow, the prospect isn't up to par. When we consider what we are, that other fellow may wish, too, he'd rather far be just like you!

This weekend, players in the 53rd California Amateur Golf Championship will vie for first place in what the United States Golf Association has stated is the most important state championship in the nation. The winner will be decided Sunday after competing on the difficult and picturesque Pebble Beach Golf Course (above).

Today, Champion Dr. Paul Travis of Downey defended his title in the second round of the tournament and former Walker Cup player Gene Andrews, Verne Callison, Bruce McCormick and western amateur champion Steve Opperman tackled Pebble Beach, also Ron Cerrudo, 19-year-old Chabot College medalist, who eliminated Chuck Van Linge of Menlo Park yesterday.

Peggy Palmer Burrows . . . A Carmel Original

by Carolyn Elstob

A blithe spirit has returned to Carmel, unfortunately only for a visit, because her home in Chicago, her doctor husband, her eight children and her many commitments as artist and writer, demand her return to the great city.

Peggy Palmer Burrows, as a teenager, began her career in Carmel, right here in the Pine Cone editorial offices, under the guidance of the genial Perry Newberry. That was along about 1925, Carmel's golden era of writers and artists.

To volatile 16-year-old Peggy, nothing with pen, brush or typewriter was impossible. Her Pine Cone column "Me and Mencken" in which she used phonetic spelling and expressed slightly mad ideas, quite uninhibited, won the admiration of such widely individual authors as Lincoln Steffens, firebrand of the '20's, and Robinson Jeffers, poet and dreamer.

Peggy wasn't content with her one-cent-a-word pay, so she went in for art. Her caricatures of the period, and of the illustrious inhabitants of the village, were hilarious and without mer-

Planners Frown On New Subdivision

After considering a new plan for High Meadows cluster subdivision yesterday afternoon, Carmel planning commissioners adopted a report disapproving the proposals presented to them for consideration by the county planning commission.

The proposed changes for High Meadows, situated north of Carmel High School and east of Highway One opposite the Carmel Convalescent Home and Carpenter Street intersection, did not conform sufficiently to the Carmel General Plan was the

Annexation Is Vital Issue, Putnam Says

Annexation is the most vitally important problem facing Carmel today, according to Frank Putnam, former mayor and fire commissioner. It is even more important than parking he told the Pine Cone this week.

Carmel provides municipal facilities to a contiguous geographic area three times its size but receives no support, Mr. Putnam declares.

Instead, in his opinion, the most vehement criticism of the city comes from residents of the contiguous areas.

In addition to persons within the city limits, people who consider themselves residents of Carmel, and boast about it, live in an area bounded by Del Monte Forest on the north, Carmel River on the south, Hatton Canyon on the east and the ocean on the west, he says.

Persons in this area, but outside the corporate limits of the city, are furious because they have no voice in the government of the municipality with which they identify themselves. Critical of the city's government, also parking, they can do nothing constructive to rectify the conditions they decry, Putnam adds.

"They must come into the city," he emphasizes, and adds "all that is stopping them is the almighty dollar."

There would be advantages to the city if annexation of these areas should take place. Mr. Putnam states that, at present, Carmel suffers from the "parasitic growth on its perimeter." We supply to the perimeter areas most of the municipal services the average citizens expect, for example, streets, parks, beaches, the library, also police and fire protection.

Residents of the contiguous areas use our streets daily. They enjoy our parks and beaches, and for a small fee, have the privileges of our city-supported library.

They are also the most frequent visitors to Carmel. Each time they are in town, citizens of Carmel pay to protect them, he stresses.

Carmel has a 13-man police force. A force one-third this size would be sufficient to control traffic and protect residents

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Editor
Carmel Pine Cone
Dear Madam:

Permit me to protest the outcome of the recent investigation of juvenile delinquency in Carmel. It appears to me that the committee has proposed no real solutions to the problem, but has merely said that parents should spend more time with their children.

Yes, this is true of course, but a 'finding' like this is no more of a revelation or solution than an article in the Ladies Home Journal. Simply because we do not have gang killings in the street does not mean that delinquency is not a major problem in Carmel. Does the committee propose to wait until such a thing actually occurs before it takes an action? Does it propose to stand by and watch the situation become more acute?

Perhaps there is something which could be done in Carmel—something other than simply shaking a finger at parents.

Perhaps the committee might consider a few "minor" areas outside the home which, if they are not the basic problem in delinquency, certainly help the juvenile delinquent along.

Why do the young people have so much time on their hands? Why is it such a struggle for students from Carmel Valley to have a youth center of their own open at reasonable hours? Why are there almost no active clubs (national, state or local), or even a drama department at Carmel High School? Why have repeated attempts to establish such things met with no success?

Why are youths allowed to run wild on Carmel streets, so that at any time of day or night it is unsafe to walk past them? Why is it so criminally easy for high school students to purchase liquor and cigarettes in Carmel?

I, for one, would like to know why our committee on juvenile delinquency did not investigate these things, or, if they did, why no report on their findings has been published?

Sincerely,
A member of the Carmel High School Class of '63

Editors Note:

In publishing the above anonymous communication, the Pine Cone is disregarding a policy. All letters to the editor should have the writer's signature. This can remain unpublished, if so desired, but identification is required.

However, if a young person one year out of high school feels as strongly as it appears above about the conduct of his or her peers, also the community's lack of interest in the problems of youth, public consideration should be given to the matter, especially the questions posed by the writer, Publication maybe will lead to clarification and action, if the latter is warranted.

We will welcome answers to the letter. In the meantime, may we suggest that the writer get in touch with Dan Yurkovich, chairman of the permanent committee appointed by Mayor Herbert Blanks to act, instead of talk, about delinquency in this area. —M.L.

We were happy to read about "homecoming week" in the Editor's Column of the June 4 issue. Our congratulations to the Cooks and Marjory Lloyd.

Editor, Pine Cone.

I have been a reader and admirer of the Pine Cone ever since I came to live in Carmel, but have enjoyed it considerably more since the improvement in the paper since June 1st, when the change in ownership took place. And, I must add, I always look forward to Harry Fletcher's Feathers from the Shaft.

One thing puzzles me, however, and that is why Fletcher calls his witty and philosophical feature "Feathers?" I just don't get the connection. Is he a "feather merchant" or something?

Al Hood, Carmel

Ed. Note.—We shall turn this over to Mr. Fletcher, and let him supply the answer to the mystery.

When the King of England developed ulcers through the playfulness and archery skill of one Robin Hood, he endeavored to recruit the best archers available to contest the bow and arrow experts in Sherwood Forest. Repeated failures of the King's bowmen because of imperfect weapons, caused his majesty to offer a baronetcy to whomever could make a better arrow than Robin Hood's men.

Result was a chap known as Harrie the Whittler, who could fletch an arrow like nobody's business, got the job. His art consisted in inserting the feathers in the shaft of the arrows with such precision and balance that they flew further and straighter than any others. So the King knighted the bloke and thereafter he was Lord Harry the Fletcher, later shortened to Sir Harry Fletcher. And the pile of discarded feathers grew to such proportions that the king shipped them to America to be foisted off upon the unsuspecting public. —H.W.F.

Former Governor Praises President Of Security Bank

Former Governor and Mrs. Goodwin J. Knight paid a call in Pacific Grove Saturday on Monterey County's only remaining home-owned bank and congratulated William A. Burkett, president of Security National Bank, on the bank's 75th anniversary celebration.

The former governor is chairman of the board of the Imperial Bank of Los Angeles. As a banker, Mr. Knight said that he was delighted with the recent growth of Security National Bank as shown by its establishing branches in Carmel, Marina, Seaside, and its new main office in Monterey next year. He stated that this proves what the small banker can do competing with the large city chain banks under the American free enterprise system. He said that there is no substitute for "person to person" banking and that highly active, competitive small banks are winning thousands of customers away from the computerized big banks of today.

Mr. Knight gave warm praise to Mr. Burkett, his former cabinet member. He said that the Security Bank's president had served in his cabinet "with great distinction" as superintendent of banks and as chairman of the board of investment for the State of California.

Reception Sunday In Honor Of New Wayfarer Pastor

Members of the Church of the Wayfarer will give a reception from 3 to 5 p.m. on Sunday in the Garden Room of the church in honor of the Reverend Lawrence K. Whitfield, who became pastor of the church last Sunday.

Mr. Whitfield came here from San Francisco where he had been pastor of Temple Methodist Church since 1956.

A native of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, he is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh and Drew Theological Seminary in New Jersey and studied archaeology at the American School of Oriental Research in Palestine. After a number of years as pastor of churches in Pennsylvania, he became a Navy chaplain in World War II. He was a minister in Millbrae before going to the San Francisco church.

Mrs. A. H. Scheldrup is chairman of a committee, composed of representatives of church organizations, arranging the reception Sunday which will also honor Mrs. Whitfield.

Friends in the community, as well as members of the church, are invited to meet the new pastor and his wife.

TOWN HOUSE PROGRAMS

At the Wednesday afternoon program at Carmel Foundation Town House, starting at 3 p.m., Robert De Yoe, a member of the Sierra Club, will show colored slides taken on hikes into the area bordering on Los Padres National Forest, to Devil's Fall and Church Creek. The Town House exhibit during July will be a poster with pictures showing the Sierra Club's activities.

On Sunday, 2 to 4 p.m., the twice monthly discussion group will meet at Town House. Latin American problems will be considered.

Tea will be served after both meetings. All interested persons are invited.

Still Doggy . . .

If there isn't, there should be tailwagging in Hatton Fields. On Monday the Monterey County Board of Supervisors continued consideration of a leash law for the area until August 3.

In consequence, all the dogs are free to roam for another six weeks. However, they will, in a way, be on probation. If their behavior is admirable during this period, perhaps their owners will have a better chance to convince the supervisors that confinement would truly create "a dog's life" for their pets.

BANDIT PLEADS INNOCENT

Following a plea of innocent by reason of insanity, Judge Gordon Campbell appointed Dr. Edward McCormick of Carmel and Dr. John Peschau of Agnews State Hospital to examine Gary Clarke, 23, charged with holding up the Derek Rayne haberdashery and attempting to shoot Police Officer Edd Fischer in the Harrison Memorial Library on June 3.

The doctors will report to superior court on July 7. Trial of the youth was set for July 20. He was represented by court-appointed attorney Mark Starr when arraigned this week in Salinas.

Betsy Helm Sets Date

With invitations mailed for her wedding on July 11, Betsy Helm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Helm, is in a whirl of plans. The bridegroom is James Bailey Hansen of Corcoran in the San Joaquin Valley, where he owns a ranch, and where the young couple will live. Jim is the son of Mrs. Harriet Hansen who has taken a house at Pebble Beach for the summer.

Betsy and Jim met at the University of California at Davis in 1960 when Betsy, a Santa Catalina graduate, entered as a freshman and Jim was a sophomore. He graduated in '62 and Betsy received her degree this month.

The nuptials will take place in Carmel Mission Basilica with the reception following in the President's House of the Mark Thomas Inn.

Betsy's attendants will be her sister, Molly, as maid of honor; Daphne Craige of Pebble Beach, Julie Thomas of Carmel Valley, Margie Helm, Betsy's younger sister, and Chris Hansen, her fiance's sister, as bridesmaids.

Linda Johnson and Mrs. Herbert McGuckin are planning a shower for Betsy on the evening of July 1 in Mrs. McGuckin's Carmel Valley home. The guests will be fellow workers of Betsy's at the Mark Raggett shop where she has been a vacation employee for several summers.

Herons Home

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Heron returned last week from a trip to Europe. Mr. Heron is a former mayor of Carmel, founder of the Forest Theater and producer of Carmel's Shakespeare festival. Abroad he visited Shakespeare's birthplace, and saw performances of the latter's plays honoring the quadricentennial of his birth. On the continent, the Herons attended operas while visiting the various cities famous for such musical productions.

New Pharmacist

Dennis G. Norrby is the new pharmacist at the Community Hospital. He received his doctor of pharmacy degree three years ago from the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco. The year before, he was granted a bachelor of science degree in the same field. Mr. Norrby and his wife, Diane, are now Carmel residents.

Burketts Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Burkett invited a group of Peninsula residents to their Pebble Beach home on Saturday evening to meet Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Walker; Goodwin Knight, former governor of the State of California, and Mrs. Knight; and Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Solomon of Hillsborough.

Mr. Walker is the new vice-president of the Security National Bank of which Mr. Burkett is president. Earlier in the afternoon, the Knights and the Solomons were godparents at the christening of the Burketts' son William.

cy. Her woodcuts were soulful and beautiful. The sea, the rocky shoreline and the tall trees illustrated Peggy's poems, written in her dreamy mood. She hoped that she fooled the Pine Cone readers by signing her romantic rhyming efforts with the pen name, Alyson Palmer.

When Peggy first saw Carmel she was still a school girl. Her mother had a life-long friend here, Mrs. James Southard Parker, an artist and patron of music, who was and still is known far and wide as "Happy" Parker. Peggy's first family home was on San Antonio at Thirteenth. "We could see Robinson Jeffers' stone stronghold from our windows," Peggy remembers. "Ted Kuster was building his beautiful Golden Bough Theater in the court of the same name on Ocean at Monte Verde; Dene Denny and Hazel Watrous were fostering chamber music (forerunner of the great Bach Festival) in their Dolores street studio . . ."

It was in 1927, as closely as Peggy can remember, that William Randolph Hearst was in Carmel as the guest of Lincoln Steffens. Of course Mr. Hearst read the Pine Cone. He read Peggy's fantastic columns. He listened to Steffens enthusiastically tell about his young friend and suggested that she might try her talents on a metropolitan newspaper. That was considered a cordial invitation by Peggy and off she went to San Francisco. Within minutes of giving the managing editor her "sales talk" she joined the staff of the "Call Bulletin."

From that day onward Peggy Palmer was in the big-time world of journalism and art. She remembers that her first interview for publication in San Francisco was with Helen Wills who was then at the height of her fame. "I never forgot how kind she was," Peggy told, "and now, as Mrs. Aidan Roark, she lives right here in Carmel. Shall I say it? All right—small world!"

The world famous Witch Tree on the 17-Mile Drive. It was felled by storm in '63. A painting by Peggy Palmer Burrows.

After one year in San Francisco, Peggy went on to Chicago where she was promptly a victim of appendicitis. She fell in love with the surgeon who saved her life "for better or for worse" and became Mrs. Samuel Burrows.

Although Mrs. Burrows went on to edit the women's section of a Chicago daily, her interest in painting and in pen and ink caricature became paramount.

Chicago art connoisseurs have been praising her whimsical and arresting water colors for years. Her "Picasso and Les Girls"; her parody of Goya's "Boy on a Ram," and her study of Matisse lying on a couch, costumed as one of his odalisques, have won nationwide critical acclaim.

Children's books, text as well as illustrations, have been a generous part of her output. "What with eight children, I should know," she comments.

Mrs. Burrows has been in Carmel for the past three weeks, the house guest of Mrs. Parker. She came for a "rest" before starting a series of six 12 by 6 foot murals for a new bank in Chicago. But rested she certainly has not! Old friends and new scenes have tempted her to parties and to her palette. One of the most charming of the artist's just completed canvasses is a pastel of the Mermaid, the bronze figure created by Robert Howard of San Francisco for Mrs. J. F. van Loben Sels. Mrs. Burrows painted the Mermaid as she saw her against the sea in the patio of the van Loben Sels' home, the spectacular house on Carmel's Scenic Drive that was created by Frank Lloyd Wright.

Runaways Reported To Carmel Police

Carmel police were concerned with the whereabouts of four reported runaways yesterday. Involved were 14-year-olds from Carmel, Carmel Knolls, Carmel Valley and Turlock.

A Carmel father reported his son might have headed for Hollywood with a boy from Carmel Knolls and a girl from Carmel Valley. Carmel Valley sheriff's deputies rounded up the lads who, according to the Carmel police report, had broken into a Valley home.

The fourth runaway was reported by a Turlock father. Later his son came into the police station and stated he wanted to go home. His father complied with his request when informed that the boy was found.

Another teenager, a 17-year-old Carmel girl, told police that someone had broken into her home on Tuesday. She was living alone in the house while her parents were away.

Pamela Canfield, daughter of Mrs. Matthew Comstock Jenkins of Pebble Beach, became the bride of Michael Angelo Antoncich, Jr. at a nuptial mass Saturday in Carmel Mission Basilica. The Reverend Roger J. Dieudonne performed the double ring ceremony at noon. Bowls of white Spring flowers decorated the altar and sprays of similar flowers garlanded each pew.

The bride, given in marriage by her stepfather, Matthew Comstock Jenkins, chose a floor-length gown of white peau de soie made with a semi-fitted bodice and a skirt split in front to reveal a heavily beaded underskirt. The free flowing back fell into a chapel train, and a Belgian lace mantilla covered her hair and the train. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley centered with white orchids.

Mrs. Paul Sullivan of Redwood City was matron of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sisters, Franci and Gay Antoncich of Carmel Valley, Claire Nelson of Salinas, Carolee Hanson of Carmel, and Mrs. Richard Noordyk of Honolulu. The bride's cousin, Elizabeth Webb of Shelburne, Vermont, was flower girl.

The older attendants wore floor-length gowns of aqua shantung made with fitted bodices and modified bell skirts. Matching veiled Dior bows were in their hair, and they carried white daisies and yellow roses. The flower girl's dress was of the same material and she carried a nosegay of similar flowers.

Steven Antoncich of Carmel Valley was best man for his brother. Ushers were Anthony Crivello and Horace Cardinali of Monterey, Ted Krumland of Concord, Daryl Zahner of San Jose and Paul Sullivan of Redwood City.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at Live Oak Meadow, the Pebble Beach home of Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins.

The wedding party greeted the guests in the living room where topiary trees of gardenias and arrangements of white flowers were used as decorations. Champagne and luncheon were served in the patio and Walt Tolleson's orchestra played for dancing in a flower-decorated tent on the lawn above Stillwater Cove.

Mrs. Jenkins greeted guests in a brilliant blue silk gown made with a cowl neckline and flared skirt. She wore a matching velvet band in her hair and pinned white orchids to her handbag.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Antoncich, wore a champagne pink brocade suit with a small hat of green leaves. Her flowers were green orchids.

When the couple left Pebble Beach for a honeymoon which will take them to Apple Valley and Las Vegas, the bride was wearing a turquoise silk sheath and matching coat with black patent accessories.

Guests from out-of-town included the bride's brother, George F. Canfield of Taipai; the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald M. Brown of Shelburne, Vermont, and their son, Archibald, Jr.; her aunt, Mrs. Derick Webb and daughter Lisa also from Shelburne. Another aunt, Mrs. Arthur Rosenbaum, and daughter Lucy came from Washington, D.C.

The bride, daughter of the late Robert W. Canfield, is a graduate of Katharine Branson School and attended Pine Manor Junior College in Wellesley, Massachusetts, and Monterey Peninsula College. She is a member of the Auxiliary of the Community Hospital of the Monterey Peninsula, and is a provisional member of the Junior League.

Her husband, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Antoncich of Carmel Valley, is a graduate of Monterey High School, also the University of California. In September he will enter Hastings Law School in San Francisco. This summer the newlyweds will make their home in Carmel, and in the fall will take an apartment in San Francisco.

Campbell Sisters' Plans

The trio of sisters, Lynn, Julie and Polly, daughters of Judge and Mrs. Gordon Campbell, have wonderful study and travel plans for the summer. Julie, a senior sociology major at the University of Oregon, will leave June 27, for a six-weeks course at the University of Hawaii. Lynn has completed her three-year training course in nursing at St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco. She will take her state board exam in October and plans to go on to college to earn her B.S. degree. Young Polly, a senior at Carmel High School, will be a member of the recreation staff at River School until September.

Donna Work Wed

Donna Work, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Work, Jr. of Pebble Beach, became the bride of Dr. Gerald David Silverberg in All Saints' Episcopal Church on Sunday. The 1 p.m. service was read by the Reverend David Hill before members of the immediate family.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a peau de soie gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, short sleeves and a bell skirt. Her illusion veil fell from a crown of lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Rutledge Bray of Carmel was her sister's only attendant. Her gown was a chiffon print and she wore gardenias in her hair.

The bride's brother-in-law, Rutledge Bray, served as best man.

Nieces of the bride were also in the wedding party. Ellen Fielding, the junior bridesmaid, wore a blue peau de soie frock and a crown of pink carnations; while Mary Elizabeth Fielding, Susan and Alison Work, all flower girls, were dressed alike in pink organdy with crowns of carnations.

Mrs. Thomas A. Work, Jr., greeted guests at the reception following the services in a gown fashioned of beige dynasty silk trimmed in pink silk braid, and she wore a matching veil in her hair.

The bride is the half-sister of Robert Work of Carmel and Thomas A. Work III of San Diego. The late Thomas A. Work, Sr. was her grandfather, and she is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Work; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Work; Captain and Mrs. Leonard Kirby of Hobe Sound, Florida; Mr. and Mrs. Cyril S. George and Charles Perkes, Berkeley; and Miss Donna Perkes, Carmel.

The new Mrs. Silverberg is a graduate of Santa Catalina School for Girls and Wellesley College. She has just finished her second year at Stanford Law School and will complete her final year of law at Columbia University.

Dr. Silverberg, son of Mrs. Robert Silverberg of Elmhurst, New York, and the late Mr. Silverberg, is a graduate of Dartmouth and has just been granted a degree in medicine from Stanford University. Following a reception at the Work's home, the newlyweds left for New York where Dr. Silverberg will start his internship at Montefiore Hospital. After a year he will return to Stanford Hospital to take his residency.

He is the brother of Irwin Warren Silverberg and Marlene Phyllis Silverberg of Elmhurst, New York.

Hole-in-One

A hole-in-one scored by Ray Weatherford of Carmel may earn him a trip to Scotland for two and $1,000. By getting an ace at the Pacific Grove municipal course, Mr. Weatherford was entered in the Old Smuggler Hole-in-One Sweepstakes, an annual competition for aces.

Antioch College Graduates

Lee Harms and Adrian Bennett III graduated on Saturday from Antioch College in Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Lee, who received a bachelor's degree in design, held a number of jobs under Antioch's study-plus-work education plan in New York, Florida, Illinois, Massachusetts and Ohio. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Harms.

Adrian is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Bennett Jr., former Carmelites who now live in Buffalo, New York. He was awarded a B.A. in history and will continue his studies towards a master's degree in teaching at the University of Chicago. He has been granted a full scholarship for this work from the university. Ade is married to the former Cynthia Bliss of West Rindge, New Hampshire.

Both Lee and Ade are graduates of Carmel High School.

Schooner Trip to Hawaii

Last week when the Altura sailed out of Monterey bound for Honolulu, Skipper Bruce Harris had two Carmelites aboard. They were Charlotte Townsend and Ken Agle. The rest of the crew was Mrs. Harris and her daughter, Kira.

The schooner crossing to Oahu is expected to take two weeks. Following this the Carmelites will cruise on the Altura to others of the Hawaiian Islands before returning home.

'Young Oldtimer' Reunion

Last weekend four men who grew up together in Carmel reminisced a little about "the old days" but spent more time exchanging news of children, grandchildren and mutual friends. The "young oldtimers" were Richard Boke, here from Richmond, Virginia, for two days; William Heron of Sacramento, in Carmel to play in the California Amateur Golf Championship, and to be the guest of his father, Herbert Heron and Mrs. Heron; also Judge Gordon Campbell and Frank Lloyd of Carmel.

Swim School Party

Exhibitions of synchronized swimming were given by Gay McKinney and Diane Woods at Mrs. Ralph Weston's Allegro Swim School in Carmel on Saturday afternoon.

The younger students had a party too, at the school's Monterey branch, demonstrating their abilities in the enclosed pool.

Fly to Europe

Taking the polar route to Europe, Mrs. Paul Budd, with the young Robert Gingerys (Carla Budd), left Wednesday for an extended tour. Following three weeks in London they will go on to Monaco and then to Florence where they will see John Wilkin, a history major on the Stanford University campus there. John is really "one of the family" as his twin brother, Chris, is the husband of Niki Budd, Carla's younger sister.

The three travelers will go on to Venice, Heidelberg and Zurich, with three weeks in Paris before flying home.

Chris and Niki Wilkin with tiny Christopher Paul are spending the summer months in the Budd home on San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leigh Hitzl are seen (above) leaving Carmel Presbyterian Church following their wedding on June 14. Mrs. Hitzl is the former Patricia Catherine Giarratana, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Giarratana of Hatton Fields Mesa. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hitzl of Fresno. After a honeymoon in San Francisco, the young couple returned to Carmel and visited Fresno before leaving for Huntsville, Alabama, where the bridegroom will be engaged in space research as a mathematical analyst at the Lockheed Research and Engineering Center.

Dr. George Hunter Hall officiated at their wedding which took place at 2 p.m. Dr. Giarratana gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a traditional gown of light ivory Brussels lace over taffeta, fashioned with a scalloped neckline, short sleeves and a full dome skirt. Her peau de soie chapel train fell in graceful folds from a streamered bow topped by three roses on a pleated cummerbund of the same material. A Camelot head piece covered with Brussels lace held her three-tiered ivory illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of cream roses, stephanotis and bouvardia.

Mrs. John Benjamin Merritt of Long Beach was her honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Grumet of Alhambra, Marilyn Cook of Orinda, and Janetta Thompson of Atherton. They were similarly clad in long rose silk linen dresses. Pink elf roses, white bouvardia and stephanotis formed the matron of honor's bouquet and the bridesmaids' were of pink elf roses and pink bouvardia.

Charles Bruggeman of San Francisco was the best man. Ushers were Dr. Wayne Worrell of Memphis, Tennessee; Lt. Thomas Snedeker of San Diego; Thomas Hitzl, the bridegroom's brother; and Neil Giarratana, the bride's brother.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Giarratana was attired in a powder blue and white silk linen ensemble with matching pillbox hat. Mrs. Hitzl, the bridegroom's mother, wore a pale green lace dress and matching accessories. Both had white butterfly orchid corsages.

Congratulatory cables from the bride's aunts and uncles in Scotland were read at the reception following the ceremony in the Copper Cup Room at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Giarratana, San Mateo; Mr. and Mrs. James E. White and Miss Margaret Rose White, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Beatty, Fresno; and Miss Dorothy Bryson, Ventura.

A graduate of Carmel High School, the bride received her bachelor's degree from the University of California in January.

Her husband obtained a bachelor of science degree from the same university in 1962. This month he was granted a master's degree in aeronautics and astronautics by Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"Thank You!" says Pop

Carmel's Pop Smith, whose life story appeared in the Pine Cone on his 89th birthday, May 24, wishes to thank the countless friends who sent him birthday messages. Incidentally, the Pop Smith story as it appeared in the Pine Cone, was read in two instalments on radio by newscaster, Evangeline Baker.

Back From "Down Under"

Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Graves of Hacienda Carmel returned last week from their 42-day cruise to South Sea islands and Australia. Passengers on the S.S. Mariposa, they were prominent in the fun activities of the voyage, with Mrs. Graves being appointed honorary captain of the ship. Far from travel weary, on their return to Carmel the Graves spent last weekend in St. Helena, guests of the Harry Grahams. They attended the open house party at Grandview Community, celebrating the opening of two new units of the unique complex of homes.

Many Persons Enrich Girl Scout Program

The Carmel Girl Scouts and their leaders wish to thank the many interested people in the community who have assisted them in their activities this year. Most are busy people running businesses and homes and taking part in many community activities.

Mrs. John Nesbitt of Sunset School has been a consultant for the Pen Pal Badge, and Miss Jo Brazell, also of Sunset, has been helping the girls with their musicians badge. Captain William Ellis of the Carmel Police Department helped with bicycle education. John Farr, Carmel High School, demonstrated rhythm instruments and told of their origin. Mrs. Dean Litts assisted the Scouts with their photography badge, showing the girls how to use a "dark room" and how to enlarge prints. Mr. Lefty Sproul from Monterey, who has been active in Boy Scouts for many years, taught the Carmel Girl Scouts skills in outside crafts and first aid.

Mrs. Jack Rickells, La Mesa Village, had a seminar on music in which the Scouts heard tapes of operettas and symphonies. Mrs. Jean White from the physical education department of Carmel Junior High School, helped the Scouts earn their folk dancing badge. Miss Stephanie Cummings, who has studied at the Royal Ballet in London, talked on the history of ballet and showed the girls some basic ballet steps. Miss Dewey Dutton, a finalist in the Monterey Peninsula College talent show, talked to the Scouts about folk music and folk lore, also played her guitar. Mel Smith and Hugh Smith aided the Scouts in outdoor activities — such as hikes and overnight camping.

Mrs. Douglas Chandler helped several troops with dramatics—demonstrating the art of pantomime and helping the girls put on plays. Mrs. Kenneth Jones and Mrs. Joseph McEldowney assisted the leaders when added supervision was needed. Richard Masten wrote a special song for a program the Scouts gave. Miss Elizabeth Jones is director for the summer burro pack trips on which the girls hike into the Los Padres National Forest each year. Miss Mikake, a student from Monterey Peninsula College, spoke to the girls about her native country of Japan. Mrs. Richard Lauritzke helped transport the Scouts to numerable times and Mrs. Robert Mullnix loaned her home and talents for a Christmas party. Mrs. William Penney was a great help in the field of music. The Carmel Girl Scouts feel a deep sense of gratitude to these citizens and all others who helped to make this such a successful year in Scouting.

COMMITTEE APPROVES MARINA UNIFIED DISTRICT

The augmented committee on school district organization, last week, in a 5-3 vote approved a unified school district for Marina. At present Marina has its own elementary school district but is part of the Monterey high school district.

If approved by the State Board of Education, last night's decision will allow Marina to build its own high school.

One of the possibilities that could have been considered by the committee last week was a Peninsula-wide district including Carmel as suggested by the State board.

At the meeting were Medill Bair, superintendent of the Carmel Unified District, Assistant Superintendent Wayne Greenfield and two board members, Clayton Neill Jr. and Steven Sassoon.

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

In Ballots and Bandwagons, Ralph G. Martin has written about five key twentieth-century political conventions. They are the Republican conventions of 1900, 1912, and 1920 and the Democratic conventions of 1932 and 1956. Vividly he describes the wheeling and dealing, the smoke-filled rooms, the speeches, the undercover planning, the selling of a candidate to the delegates. This is the heady game of politics as it is played by experts.

We have the Gourmet's Menu Cookbook, replete with color photographs which are enough to make any cook reach for the truffles and foie gras. Very elegant cookery here!

It is time you quit being afraid of gorillas, for the gorilla is a gentle beast who lives in a small group, the males outnumbering the females about two to one. Gorillas love their children and show them affection as well as care. They eat a great deal, sleep long hours, and discipline their children with a forceful look rather than a spanking. George Schaller spent two years in Africa studying the gorillas and wrote a book entitled The Year of the Gorilla. Honestly, it's fascinating!

There should be more to choosing a title for a book than the desire for a sockdolager that will linger in the mind of the reader. Janet Gillespie's new book is called Peacock Manure and Marigolds. It proposes to show you how to be a successful gardener without the use of poison sprays. Not being a gardener, this librarian can only call your attention to the worthwhile book with the revolting title which can help you to avoid sprays and kindred undesirables.

A common sense book for the man of mature years is entitled Sex and the Mature Man and is by Dr. Louis P. Saxe. It gives solutions for real problems and imagined ones with plain facts and common sense.

Harry Hopkins was born in England in 1913 and has been a newsman for most of his adult life. His book The New Look, A Social History of the Forties and Fifties in Britain tells the story of the revolution in the domestic structure of Great Britain and her place in the power structure of the world. Illustrated with many news photographs, and well written as to text, it asks the question what will be the future of this great nation?

My Aunt Maxine is the life story of Maxine Elliott told by Diana Forbes-Robertson. The author was born in England, but is now an American citizen living in New York. Her style of writing is factual, so you must bring to the reading of this book an interest in the theatre of the turn of the century and a drive to know more about Maxine Elliott.

And finally we have a book by Tommy Armour which gives the reader a mental approach to golf, the idea of how to think your way to better golf. The title of the book is A Round of Golf With Tommy Armour.

Remember the story hour on Saturday mornings for your small ones, and the reading club for your reading ones, and all the good books for you.

Who understands the abstract shows
At the galleries, god knows.

Are they fakes, or are they dreams,
Are they sincere or sickly schemes

Made by some man with an honest face
Who explains the "laws" of "filling space"

With erudition quite sublime?
I think they're only filling time.

WHITE ROSE OF ATHENS

"White Rose of Athens" . . . I heard the phrase,
And it conjured up an arcanal scene
In a classic land of bygone days,
Ruled by an ancient king or queen.
There was a world of muted white,
With pillars and statues everywhere,
Shining with a mamoreal light
In languid Mediterranean air.
Millions of roses, as white as snow,
Were strewn through colonnade and hall,
And a rising moon's eburnean glow
Shone like a halo over all.
Athenian moonlight, marble and flower
Combined, with an unearthly gleam,
To yield a strange, enchanted hour
Setting a poet's heart adream.

I AM CONTENT

There grows between two hearts that know
The verity of love, a bridge that spans
All earthly ties; when in the glow
Of shining eyes
There beams perfected light
Of oneness; and there is no night
To dim the bonded filament of thought; —
For naught
May mar those gems which scintillate
Upon the echelon of fate.

HUMOR

Most humor is the common salt and condiment of life:
it saves the subtle palate from the wanton bitterness of strife . . .

Like acid it can crumble up the granite of despair;
or like a fox it ferrets out frustration from its cryptic lair . . .

It often is a buoy or line against a storm of troubles:
or changing to a slender pin to break the ego's swollen bubble . . .

HEART SONG

Let me accomplish the things that my heart sings about;
to love without reservation and to be loved not in adoration
but for the simple song of the woods, the mountains
the shore, — and their inhabitants — and to write a poem that you can interpret in the way my heart sings it.

Art News . . .

The Coast Gallery beside Highway One at Big Sur will show paintings by Margaret Brunn through July 24, also drawings by the artist's nine-year-old daughter, Robin. A reception will be given on opening day of the show, Saturday, from 3 - 8 p.m.

Margaret Brunn studied at the University of California, San Francisco Art Institute, Carmel Art Institute and Monterey Peninsula College.

She has exhibited at the Palace of the Legion of Honor, San Francisco Museum of Art and the Oakland Museum of Art. One-man shows of her paintings have been presented at the Carmel Art Center, Brunn Gallery, Gamble's Galleries and Artists' Cooperative. Her awards include a best-in-show and purchase prize at the Las Vegas National Art Show in 1958. Other awards for her work are a first at the Carmel Art Center, two seconds at the Monterey County Fair and an honorable mention in the 1959 Monterey Jazz Festival Show. She was an art judge for the Fresno County Fair in 1962.

Margaret Brunn's daughter Robin, three years ago had a one-man show at the art department, University of California.

New paintings, a gallery in Carmel Square on San Carlos above Seventh, will open on Wednesday. Mrs. Joseph A. Michela will be the director of Carmel's newest art gallery which will contain only paintings, drawings and sculpture by John Boit Morse, a local artist.

Mrs. Douglas MacGregor, president, greeted several hundred guests at the Carmel Art Association cocktail-buffet party last week. The association's semi-annual parties for members and friends are always gala occasions with artistically decorated tables and delicious food. Last week's party in the main gallery continued the tradition. Two one-man exhibitions attracted much attention. They were the Jane Buffington show in the small gallery and the Edda Heath show in the Beardsley Room. The latter is a founder of the association. An out-of-town member at the festivities was Mrs. Viola Russ McBride of Ferndale. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Putnam introduced the former's sister, Marjorie Sinclair of Honolulu, to Carmel friends and artists. Even though she is recuperating from a broken hip, and has to use crutches, Mrs. Virginia Burk did not miss the event. Brigadier General Frank Dorn, back in Carmel with his bride, tended bar, as did also Fred Klepich, Valerio Giusi and Leslie Emery, all active members of the association.

"Early California" will be the theme of the fifth annual festival of art presented by the Atascadero Art Club, Inc. on September 19 and 20. Mrs. Mary Jane Spence, of San Jose and Boulder Creek, and the first artist to be appointed to the California Fine Arts Commission will judge entries.

Awards will be given for "Best in Show" and first, second and third place in any media for pictures; all crafts or other techniques. Applications must be in by September 12.

Four members were added to the board of trustees at the June meeting of the Peninsula chapter of the American Federation of Arts. New members are Charles Simpson of Monterey, James A. Smith of Carmel Valley, Mrs. Richard Osborne and Mrs. Shreve Archer, Jr., both of Pebble Beach.

In addition to these four are the continuing members: Ansel Adams, Mrs. August Armanasco, Mrs. William Arnold, Mrs. Rutledge Bray, Brooks Clement, Steve Crouch, Roderick Dewar, Mrs. Hugh Dormody, Ritchie Dunn, Mrs. W. W. Durney, Dr. William Fitzhugh, Jr., Miss Alice Harwood, Mrs. Jennison Heaton, Leonard Heller, Mrs. Roger Hope, Henry Huntington II, Mrs. Harry Lusignan, Mrs. William B. Pringle, Frederick Rider, Mrs. Robert Stanton, Leo Tanous, Mrs. Julian von Meier, Harold Willis and Mrs. Suzanne Wiseman.

CHILDREN'S READING PROGRAM AT LIBRARY

Any Carmel boy or girl who is interested in looking for treasure in books is invited to join the summer reading program sponsored by Harrison Memorial Library.

The program this year is called "Treasure Hunt." When he enrolls, each child will be given a free book mark. A treasure map with his name on it will record his reading progress, and list the names of the books he has read. To qualify for a reading certificate at the end of summer vacation, he must read at least 20 books at his own grade level or higher.

Mrs. Ruth Galvin Thornburg, librarian, also announces that the library will have a story hour for younger children every Saturday at 10 a.m.

Kiwanis Talk On Modern Drugs

A representative of Smith, Kline and French Pharmaceutical Laboratories, Fred Nolan, was the speaker at Thursday's luncheon-meeting of Carmel Kiwanis and gave little known facts on a topic of nationwide interest, the development of modern drugs.

Mr. Nolan pointed out that research laboratories, creating and testing modern medicines, "the tools of the medical profession," have accomplished more in the past 20 years than during the past 20 centuries.

He gave a brief history of the development of sulfa, penicillin and polio vaccines and showed charts illustrating the dramatic drop in death rates in what, less than 50 years ago, were termed fatal diseases.

Mr. Nolan stated that contrary to general opinion, drug manufacturers make amazingly small profit—about seven cents per dollar on prescription drugs.

Mr. Nolan also cited the great benefit of tranquilizers to thousands of mentally disturbed patients. "It is because of such sedatives that the population of our mental institutions has decreased and untold numbers of 'border cases' have been enabled to live in their homes surrounded by their families," he said.

SYMPHONY ASSOCIATION OFFICERS ANNOUNCED

H. G. (Tony) Royal of Salinas was unanimously re-elected president of the Monterey County Symphony Association at the organization's annual membership meeting on June 10.

Other officers elected for the 1964-65 season include: Mrs. Scroggs Layton, first vice-president; Sig Aidelberg, second vice-president; Wade Parks, third vice-president; Mrs. Howard Bucquet, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Nihla Knight, recording secretary and Richard Cox, treasurer. With the exception of Mrs. Layton and Mr. Cox, all officers will be serving a second term.

Elected to serve on the board of directors were Mrs. Frank G. Ringland, Mrs. Austin Frey, Mrs. Reinhard Bachrach, Phillip Smith, Walter Burde, Charles Simpson, James Glaser, Dr. Dennis Eiselman and Mrs. Scroggs Layton.

BALLET SCHOOL OPENS IN CARMEL JULY 13

The sixth season of the Carmel-by-the-Sea National Ballet Summer School wil begin July 13, according to Joanne and Dudley Nix, owners and directors.

It was also announced that a repeat of the same program will take place in Los Angeles, with two weeks in each locality. The program will include ballet, character, jazz, music and theatrical production.

Faculty members working with Mrs. Nix will be: Olga Fricker, Los Angeles; Alan Howard, director of Pacific Ballet Company, San Francisco; Katherine Fishback, New Mexico; Rod Strong, San Francisco; Kathy Fishback King, New Mexico; and Lucille McClure, Los Angeles.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

"Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein" (Mark 10). These words of Christ Jesus will set forth one of the major themes of the Bible Lesson to be heard Sunday at all Christian Science churches. Related readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include these lines: "Willingness to become as a little child and to leave the old for the new, renders thought receptive of the advanced idea. Gladness to leave the false landmarks and joy to see them disappear,—this disposition helps to precipitate the ultimate harmony" (p. 323). The subject is "Christian Science."

The Sur Coast

By ELIZABETH FULLER JONES

Arthur "Ted" Bergquist of Big Sur, was elected to the board of directors of the American Red Cross at a meeting of that organization in Carmel last Thursday. Mr. Bergquist will serve in that office for three years and will act as a liaison between the Carmel Red Cross chapter and his special field of interest, Big Sur and the Sur Coast.

Well-known in the community of Big Sur, for his association with the Captain Cooper School, his active and enthusiastic participation in community affairs, Mr. Bergquist has for some time been a volunteer Red Cross worker. He is a qualified ambulance driver—on an around-the-clock alert to serve the needs of the coastal area—and has given a number of basic and advanced first aid courses to individuals in the south coast region, including personnel of the park and forest services. Recently he successfully completed an intensive course given by the university extension and the school of medicine of the University of California at Los Angeles, in cooperation with the Southern California Committee on Trauma of the American College of Surgeons.

Executive secretary Dorothy Von Meier of the Carmel chapter states her board is pleased that Mr. Bergquist has accepted his new position.

A wilderness camp, Camp Quiten Sabe, an activity of the City of Monterey recreation department, opened this week at a secluded location in the upper Palo Colorado region for the third consecutive year. The camp, for girls and boys between the ages of eight and 16, is a camping-living experience in a true wilderness area of the Santa Lucia Mountains. Campers enjoy swimming, hiking, nature study, and, at mid-week, a day-long hike to Turner Creek Camp and return.

Sixty young people are taking part in this week's activities. There will be two more sessions of the camp which operates Monday through Friday and is directed by Duke Thayer, who has been associated with recreation, camping and allied activities for many years. He formerly served as director of recreation for four years with the City of Monterey and is presently associated with the Pacific Grove Junior High School. Mrs. Thayer is supervisor of the camp, and during the school year, a teacher at Fremont Junior High School. The Thayers bring to this camping experience an abundance of knowledge and interest in the out-of-doors to share with those who take part in this annual summertime activity.

There are a few openings still available for the following two weeks of camp (June 29-July 3 and July 6-July 10) and information may be obtained from the recreation department (FR 2-8121, Ext. 216).

Fire School, a week of intensive training, has just been completed by members of the United States Forest Service stationed at the Big Sur Guard Station, Big Sur. The "school," which is held annually at the beginning of the summer season at the Hunter Liggett Military Reservation, near Jolon, gives men actual experience in suppression and control of fire and all of its attendant problems. Stephen Goetz, fire crew foreman at the Big Sur Station, reports that he and his crew of well-qualified and experienced men are on a constant alert to protect the vast areas of the Los Padres National Forest, and environs, that come within their jurisdiction. "The hills are extremely dry," says Mr. Goetz, and with the great numbers of people that will be using the trails and camping areas, deep within the rugged coastal mountains, he strongly urges that each individual use the utmost caution in their camping-hiking-fishing activities. Observe the rules which are made for your safety, and be considerate of others, he advises. Fire permits are required before anyone can use or build any type of fire within the National Forest. Permits are issued, free, at any U.S. forest ranger station. Open fires are not permitted. Campfires are only permitted in stoves provided in the campground areas. "Smoke Here" signs are posted, and at these points only is smoking permitted. It is further urged, that each individual using these forest areas, "Remember Smokey—only YOU can prevent forest fires."

Members of the fire crew, working with Mr. Goetz this season at Big Sur, are Ralph Haskins, prevention officer for Big Sur, formerly stationed at Salmon Creek, near Pacific Valley; William "Bill" Clark, roving patrolman for the backcountry; crew drivers, John Uhle and Floyd Whitaker, and crew assistants, Bill Krenkel and Tom Moore. While awaiting his call to active duty with the Army, Juan Lopez will work as driver at Nacimiento.

Valley Theatre Summer Season Begins Tonight

Tonight at 8:30, the curtain will go up on the first production of the sixth summer season at Carmel Valley's White Oaks Theatre. The show is "The Boy Friend" — a witty, stylish cartoon of the jazz age which has been a favorite of audiences throughout the country. "The Boy Friend" will play Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings through July 19 in the rustic barn theatre located behind the Village Post Office where the White Oaks troupe has been performing since 1959.

The new theatre under construction nearby will be completed sometime during the season, and when it is finished, production will continue in White Oaks' new home.

Besides "The Boy Friend," White Oaks will present "The Three-Penny Opera," "The Pajama Game," and two rarely produced musical works—Menotti's "Unicorn, Gorgon, and Manticore" with Stravinsky's "The Soldier's Tale." Performing in all the productions will be the young people making up this summer's resident company. Ranging in age from 18 to 30, the actors, singers and dancers come from Sacramento, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and other parts of California as well as Texas and Michigan.

Season tickets are still available and, as in past years, are good any night during a show. New this year is that a season ticket is good for any four seats at one performance. Reservations can be made by telephoning OL 9-2248, or Central Box Office, Carmel.

New Californian getting Wells Fargo welcome

People who have just moved to this part of the country often tell us how pleased—and surprised—they are by the welcome they receive at Wells Fargo Bank. We just smile and tell them that it's a Western way of doing business. And that we've been a part of the West for a long, long time. You can call it many things—courtesy, interest, friendliness. We call it the Wells Fargo welcome—and it's yours whenever you visit a Wells Fargo Bank.

I've been thinking about all the husbands and fathers who bring their fair ones to Carmel for vacation, and I'm on the verge of tears, of sympathy. What do the ladies say the minute they've settled their suitcases that are crammed with brand new clothes? They say one of two things: "Let's go shopping!" or "I'm hungry!" And, where do they go? If they are travel-wise, they'll ask around and go where the natives go, who know their Carmel!

Perhaps you'll be lucky enough to be right there, a guest in the Cypress West Hotel where the GOLD ROOM is open to all the hungry for breakfast, lunch and dinner. It is a haven of tranquility for busy Carmelites who day after day just never find the menu of delicious choices monotonous . . . and that's a test! Sid and Beulah Vaughan will greet you. They are top-drawer restaurateurs, they're real Carmel! You'll love the GOLD ROOM with its widely spaced tables, smiling quiet service and scrumptious food. Right in the middle of the village, on Lincoln, corner of Seventh, The GOLD ROOM is a top favorite with the natives!

On Dolores street, just two hops south of Ocean Avenue, males of the family can sit back and relax no matter what size their fashion hunters wear! PERNIE'S of CARMEL!! A tiny boutique with a simply fabulous assortment of dresses, coats, sweaters, suits and guess what? Hats!! Fashions run all the way from size seven to size 46, plus half sizes. Really smart and figure flattering, the Leslie Pomer knits—2-piece and 3-piece half size originals. The Handmaker models, size 8 through 20 are exclusives. And the outer fringe get-ups in terrific off colors are utterly! And oh yes, the HATS are really tops. Straw or packables, ribbon affairs, helmets, halos and brimmed creations, dark, bright, pastel or white. PERNIE'S OF CARMEL, Dolores just south of Ocean.

When the shoe fits, the smart thing is to put it on and go places. Just what you'd expect in Carmel, we have a cobbler who is an artist at making classic or simply mad sandals in divine leathers, any color under the sun. And! Cobbler Jim Beeman cuts and handsews every blessed pair of sandals (riding boots, too) from a tracing of your foot. In case you are in a tearing rush there are dozens of models of barefoot sandals ready to put right on, for men, women and children. Kay Beeman will show you beautiful handbags, wallets and such. There's a four color cobra skin clutch purse I'd give my eye-teeth for. You don't know your Carmel until you've visited THE SANDAL SPOT, Lincoln Street near Seventh (next door to the Cypress West Hotel Gold Room).

Unless you're a descendant of that boy who couldn't shiver, you are bound to have your chilly moments in this heaven-by-the-sea. Even if your temperature runs h-i-g-h . . . for high fashion's sake you must own a casual coat! And, naturally, you'll find the ultimate in THE MARK FENWICK SHOP. Thinking of something vedy functional and dashing? Just slip on the John Meyer madras Chesterfield! Impeccably tailored it is climaxed with a slick little velvet collar and it comes in various colors.

Making its first appearance just as I stepped into the coat and suit department — a simply knockout all-weather Balmacan (you know, sort of A-line) model in machine-washable dacron and cotton. In denim-blue or vanilla, it's a winner at a truly trifling price. The full length knit coat (a la Chanel) comes in delicious persimmon. Goya yellow, navy and white. You'll wear it morning, noon and night! And for country or beach club scene-stealing, Roger Van's suede models, jacket or full length, with their gold military buttons, military pockets, and soft-as-whipped-cream touch, are worth every cent you have lying around! You'll gloat every minute in this unique fashion center where reading the labels on dresses, shirts, pants and accessories, as well as coats and suits, is like flipping through the pages of the New Yorker! SUNSET COMMITTEE

The first meeting of the Sunset Committee will be held on Wednesday evening, 8 p.m., in city hall. Frank Putnam was appointed by Mayor Herbert Blanks to head this group which will study development of the school as a cultural and community center. Voters approved the purchase of the facility from the Carmel Unified School District in April.

HONOR STEVENSON SCHOOL

Recognition of outstanding scholarship standards has been given to the Robert Louis Stevenson School in Pebble Beach by election to the Cum Laude Society. Presentation of the Stevenson School charter was made at a recent special school assembly. Dr. Remsen Bird, of Carmel Point, president-emeritus of Occidental College, presented the charter and made the major address of the evening.

The society, which has as its objective — "the encouragement of high ideals of work in the secondary schools"—has its headquarters in Boston, Mass.

Soprano Norma Jean Hodges who will be heard in Johann Sebastian Bach's Cantata No. 78 on opening night of the 27th annual festival.

Bach Festival Has Two Performances Of B Minor Mass

On July 19 and 26 at 2:30 p.m., the 27th Annual Carmel Bach Festival will present one of the most magnificent works of J. S. Bach—the Mass in B minor.

Last performed at the 24th Annual Bach Festival in 1961, this monumental choral work stands in the musical world as perhaps the greatest Mass of the baroque period. In one decade, from 1723 to 1733 Bach wrote not only this composition, but his two Passions according to Saint John and Saint Matthew and the Magnificat. The Mass in B minor was composed with a purpose in mind; that of obtaining the title of Court Composer to the Electoral Prince of Saxony which Bach did receive some three years later after he had submitted a portion of the work to the Prince.

The Mass will again be conducted by Maestro Sandor Salgo and will feature the Festival Orchestra, Chorale and Chorus. The soloists on July 19 will be Carole Bogard, soprano, Evelyn Sachs, contralto, Carolyn Stanford, contralto, James Schwabacher, tenor, Norman Farrow, bass and Archie Drake bass.

On July 26, the soloists besides Miss Bogard, Miss Stanford, Mr. Schwabacher and Mr. Drake, will be Pauline Law, contralto and Orville White, bass.

There are a limited number of seats still available for these two performances.

Lee Harms Married

Lee Harms, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Harms of Carmel, was married on June 21 to Kathryn Hahn Bercovici, daughter of Bernard S. Bercovici of Harpursville, New York, and Mrs. Katherine Bercovici of New York City.

The simple double-ring ceremony took place in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends at Rockford Chapel on the Antioch College campus in Yellow Springs, Ohio. The wedding service was read by the college chaplain, Reverend Howard Johnson.

The bridegroom graduated from Antioch College the day before the wedding ceremony, receiving a bachelor of arts degree in design. His bride is a senior at the same institution, also in the design department.

After a summer of work and study at Antioch, the young couple will move to San Francisco. Both will enter San Francicso State College, in September, Lee as a graduate student in the drama department where he will specialize in stage design and lighting, while the new Mrs. Harms wil complete her undergraduate work in art and design.

Lee graduated in 1959 from Carmel High School.

IT'S FOR THE BIRDS

Also for people—the adorable gardens and patios of a Carmel Cottage perched on a sunny hill in the Woods. (Yes, you can see the ocean, too.) All the necessities, such as fireplace, trees, a waterfall, plus a carpeted, beamed ceiling living room, two light, airy bedrooms, and a compact kitchen. $26,500, with a low down payment. When can you see it?

BUILDING SITE FOR BIRD WATCHERS

If you're imaginative and want to build your home in an unusually tranquil setting, we'd like to show you 4.7 acres in and on the River up in sunny Carmel Valley. Bring your sketch pad, sneakers, a sack of seed for the birds, and we'll provide a picnic lunch. The price is $20,000. (Without the lunch. $19,999.10).

BORN UNDER A WANDERING STAR?

Then all you really need in Carmel is a little cottage where you can hang your hat. It should be NICE, though, so you won't spend all your time housekeeping, and have a low maintenance patio and yard. How about $19,500 for a price?

WE UNDERSTAND THAT PEOPLE who can buy homes in the $80,000 price range do not read classified columns. However, we have an impression that perhaps people get into that higher bracket because they did read those columns. Anyhow, if $82,500 is in your range, you'll never find a greater bargain or a lovelier home than the four-bedroom one Mrs. Ireland just listed, because the owners had just finished hanging the Czech glass and Spanish brass light fixtures and laying the 248 sq. yds. of carpeting when their plans changed and they listed the house below replacement. In one of the loveliest areas of Hatton Fields, too.

AND DOWN ON SAN ANTONIO

we have a lovely home with separate guest quarters which has one of the most gracious living rooms we've ever seen. On a different level from the rest of the house, and overlooking the ocean. Two beautiful bedrooms and maid's room in the main house, lovely dining room and bar facilities. Interesting entrance court and sunny, enclosed patio. We are offering this property at $75,000.

Annexation Is Vital Issue, Putnam Says

within the city limits.

Carmel's fire-fighting force also could be one-third its present size were it not, for example, necessary to have sufficient men to control emergencies such as gasoline spillage and automobile fires. In hot weather as many as six to ten calls a day are answered by the fire department for washdowns of spillage alone. Most are the result of outside cars parked on our streets.

The fire department, in order to protect the city, also must be ready to furnish aid should any fire in the contiguous areas threaten Carmel; or be beyond control of the State fire protection provided in these areas.

The above are just some instances of the "parasitic growth," according to Mr. Putnam.

"The contiguous areas are sadly deficient in police and fire protection. Residents in these areas can debate all they like but I can prove it," he declares.

Were the contiguous areas in the city limits, this situation could be rectified and Carmel would be relieved of a burden, he believes.

In addition, annexation of contiguous areas would result in other benefits to the city.

"Were the Carmel area one entity, we would have an increased reservoir of talent qualified to serve on the city council, municipal boards and commissions," Mr. Putnam prophesies.

He thinks an economic study of annexation, such as one made some years ago, should be undertaken.

"An increase in taxes is the only issue that prevents the contiguous areas from knocking at our door," in his opinion.

He is sure that it can be shown, by exploration of the economic picture, that any increase in taxes would be negligible in respect to the advantages to be derived should the contiguous areas come into the city.

The current annexation study of the Carmel Business Association is a step in the right direction, Mr. Putnam indicated.

In conclusion, he pointed out that the last time he checked, only three volunteer members of the Carmel Fire Department lived within the city limits.

"The others were risking their lives to fight fires in Carmel not to protect their own homes. This is true community spirit," he stressed.

Frank Putnam would like to see more of this spirit.

Editor's note:

This is the first of a series of articles on annexation, pro and con, which will be published in the Pine Cone in coming weeks.

NEW DAUGHTER

Laurie Alice Miyamoto, new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Miyamoto of Carmel Valley, was greeted by her big sister Lynne, aged nine, and brothers Neil, aged seven, and Mark, who is two years old, upon her arrival on June 15 at the Community Hospital.

BULLETIN BOARD BACK

A bit of the Carmel tradition that has been missing is restored. Yesterday, under the supervision of Street Superintendent Bill Askew and Planning Director Floyd Adams, the town bulletin board was placed in its new location, a tiny court on Dolores Street just below Fifth.

Sam Colburn's mural beautifies the area where the board now is. Yesterday afternoon, notices were already posted for persons to peruse on their way to the post office.

Offered for sale were a collection of antique canes, white pekingese puppies and a ten-months-old Welsh and Shetland filly.

"Wanted Model (femme)—oil painting—experience not necessary. Leave name and address," read another notice.

Puppies, pony, painter's model . . . Semper Carmel!

College Stars Play Football Saturday

The key man in football today is the quarterback. A coach without a good quarterback is a candidate for gray hair or no hair.

So just imagine how happy a coach would be if he had George Mira of Miami, Jack Concannon of Boston College, or Billy Lothridge of Georgia Tech at quarterback. Any one of those three could make a team a winner. Put all three on one team and it should never lose.

Never? Well, one coach has those three superstars of 1963 college football. His team and its three aces will play only one game.

Ako Ito, winner of the Herbert E. Linsley Memorial Scholarship at MPC.

The coach is Pete Elliott of Illinois, and his team is the East All-Stars. It will play the West All-Stars in the fourth annual American Football Coaches All-America Game Saturday in Buffalo, New York.

Planners Frown On New Subdivision

main reason for the commissioners' unfavorable decision on the new plan drawn up by the firm of Goodhue and Hall for Carmel Land Company, High Meadows developers.

The proposed Hatton Canyon freeway route cuts through the eastern part of High Meadows and Carmel planners do not want this route, approved in the city's general plan, abandoned because of the subdivision.

Also disapproved were new proposed High Meadow densities of 6,000-9,000 square feet per dwelling instead of the one acre per dwelling density designated for the area in the general plan. In addition, some of the cluster development in the new presentation was advantageous to the developer but too close to the proposed Highway One freeway, also was in conflict with the area plan's parkway concept for the freeway, according to Carmel planners.

The Carmel commission was acting in its advisory capacity to the Monterey County Planning Commission. Developments within a three-mile limit of the city are submitted to city planners for recommendations.

Commissioner Fred Keeble reported that the joint committee of the commission and the city council had completed its study on parking and a report was being sent to the council.

Commissioners agreed to consider controls for the bulk of business district buildings at their next study session.

Teachers to Travel Far This Summer

While a number of Carmel Unified School District's teachers and administrators are planning summer courses in their specific subjects, others are going on "refresher" vacation trips.

Medill Bair, superintendent of the Carmel Unified School District, will attend the advanced administration institute at Harvard University, July 6 to 17. The Bair's eldest daughter, Bonnie, who has been teaching seventh and eighth grade in the John Kennedy school in Cupertino, will attend Stanford University this summer. Penny, returned from the University of Maine, has enrolled at Monterey Peninsula College. She plans to continue her schooling in a California university in the autumn. Nicki, youngest of the Bair girls, a student at Carmelo School, will attend the River School summer session.

William Mallek, principal of Tularcitos School, will, with his family, travel across Canada to St. Hippolyte, Quebec.

Mrs. Fred (Elizabeth) Diefendorf, corrective speech teacher in Carmel schools, is planning a trip to Tahiti with Mr. Diefendorf. They will leave San Francisco on July 6 by jet for Honolulu and after a brief stay in Hawaii go on to Tahiti, arriving in time for the celebration of Bastille Day. The Diefendorfs will also visit the little-traveled islands of Moorea, Bora Bora and Raiatea before returning to Carmel about August 1.

Mrs. Marcia De Voe, kindergarten teacher of River School, will spend the summer months in Australia.

Also teachers at River School, Miss Joanne Combs and Miss Mary Alice Osborne, are Europe-bound. With different itineraries, they will not travel together.

Travel reports from Carmel High School indicate that most of the teachers will confine their voyaging to the western hemisphere. Ray Stumbo is off to Central America.

Lewis Di Stefano and his family are vacationing in Mexico.

The John Graham family will tour the northwest and Canada.

Employment Office Open House Monday

The public is invited to a special open house at the State Department of Employment office, 480 Webster Street, Monterey, on Monday from 4:30-5:30 p.m. The event is part of the state-wide observance of Know Your Employment Service Week.

The Student Employment Service Committee of the Monterey Peninsula will host the open house in appreciation for the local employment office's youth services. Included in the informal program will be comments from Senator Fred S. Farr and Assemblyman Alan Pattee. There will be a showing of colored slides which depict the local student employment service in action. Also there will be a tour of the employment office facilities.

SES offers after-school, weekend, and vacation work to local students age 16 and over, with special services to graduating seniors and potential or recent dropouts.

Employers who want student workers may call the SES representatives at the department of employment Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Community Band Rehearses Tonight

Students, parents, anyone who feels at all capable on a band instrument, are invited to meet tonight in the music room at Carmel High School at 7:30 p.m. for the first rehearsal of a community summer band.

John Farr, high school music instructor, will direct the rehearsal.

"Dust off the old instrument and come join the band," he urges any band player, past or present, who would like to be part of a community music project. Carmel High School band players are particularly asked to attend the rehearsal.
